Kuidas NEPCon riskitaseme määrab?

Loeme madalaks riskiks:

probleemid, mis on

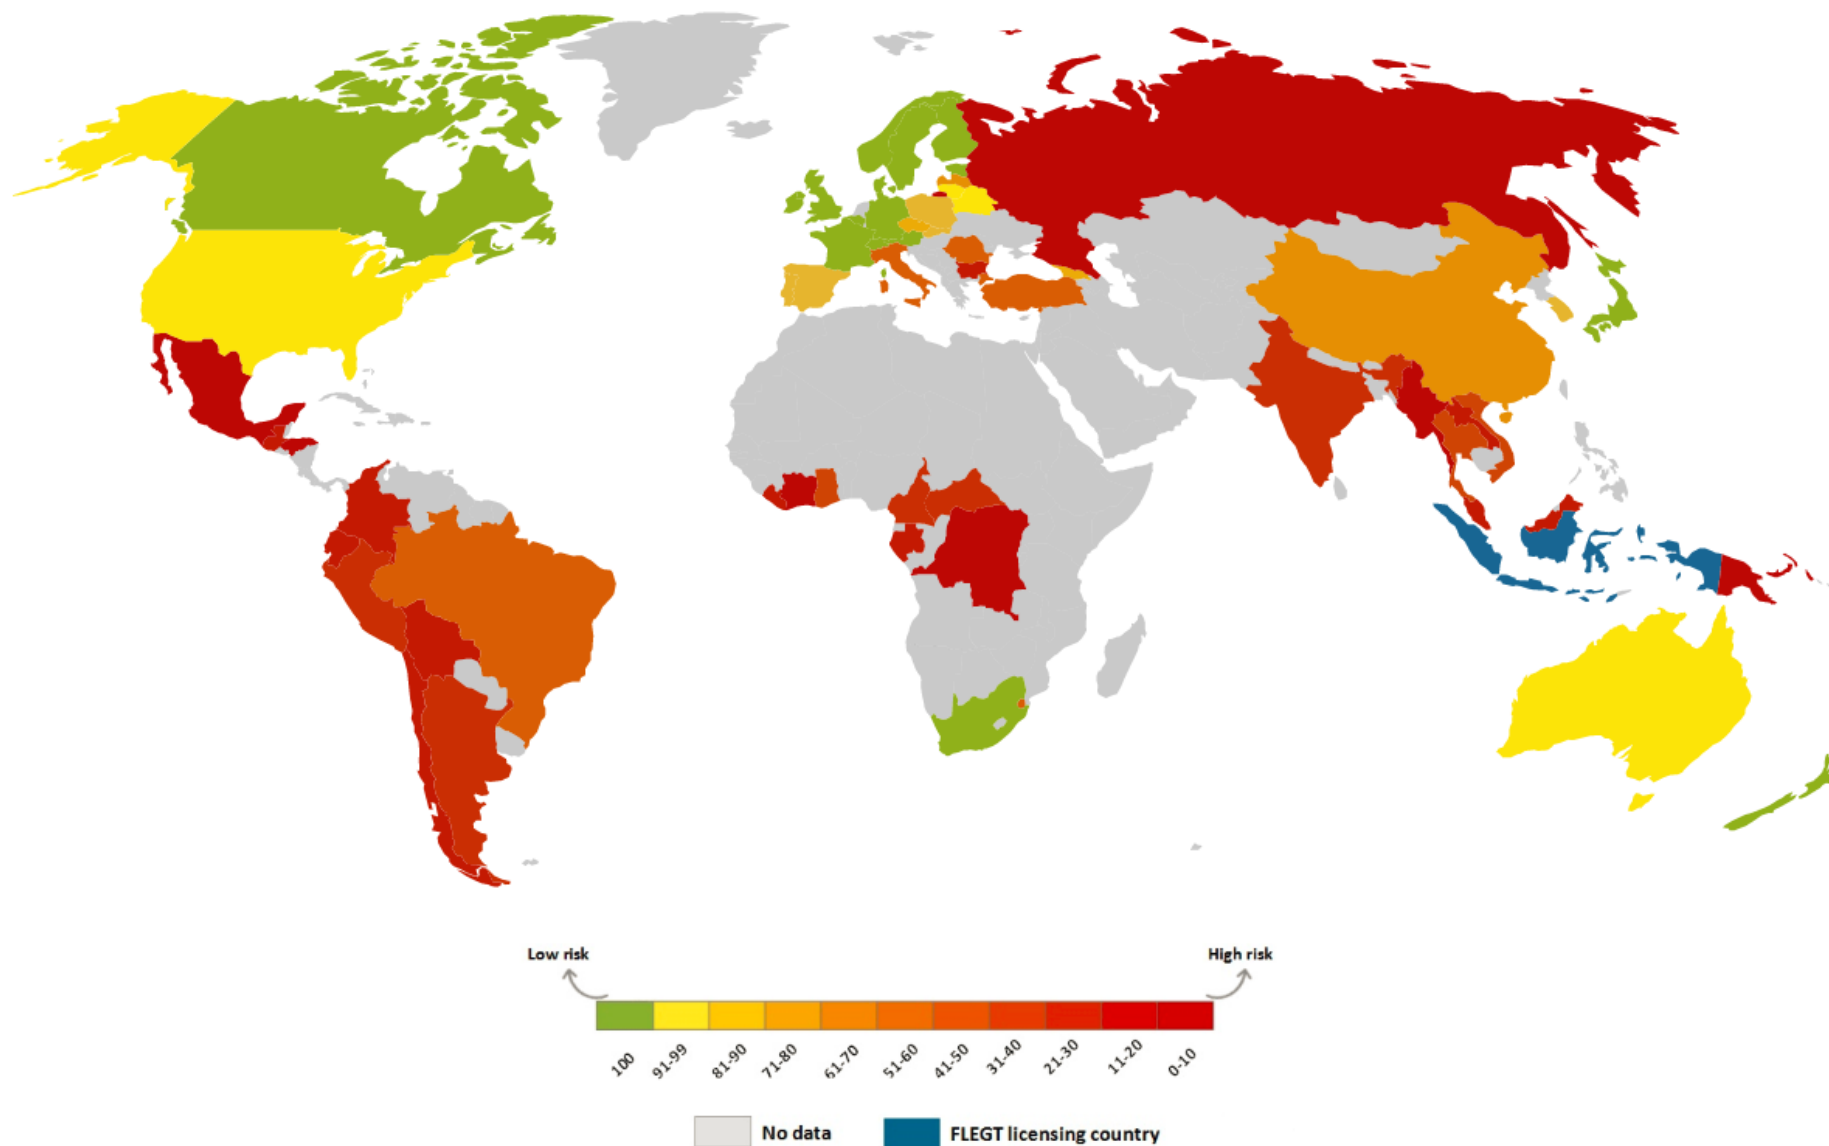

- ajutised
- ebatavalised või mittesüsteematilised
- piiratud mõjuga
- tõhusalt toimivate valitsusasutuste järelevalve abil kontrolli alla võetud

Loeme määratletud riskiks:

probleemid, mis

- mõjutavad suurt ala ja/või põhjustavad märkimisväärset kahju ja/või on kestnud kaua
- osutavad õigusliku järelevalvesüsteemi puudumisele või mittetoimimisele
- jäetakse pärast tuvastamist kõrvaldamata või piisava vastuseta
- avaldavad olulist kahjulikku mõju ühiskonnale, metsasaaduste tootmisele jm teenustele, metsa ökosüsteemile ning inimestele, keda metsamajandustegevus otseselt või kaudselt mõjutab

Subject: Access to Information about Timber Supply Chains

Dear [RECIPIENT NAME],

I am writing to you regarding our work to meet the requirements of the EU Timber Regulation.

As you may know the EU is implementing the EU Timber Regulation (Regulation (EU) No 995/2010) of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 October 2010 laying down the obligations of operators who place timber and timber products on the market. The regulation seeks to counter the trade in illegally harvested timber and timber products through three key obligations:

1. It prohibits the placing on the EU market for the first time of illegally harvested timber and products derived from such timber;
2. EU operators and traders must keep records of their suppliers and customers.
3. EU operators who place timber products on the EU market for the first time must exercise 'due diligence'.

Since we are purchasing wood products from your company we are required by the regulation to secure access to information describing the timber and timber products, country of harvest, species, quantity, details of the supplier, and information on compliance with national legislation, to assess the risk of illegal timber in this supply chain, based on the information identified above and taking into account criteria set out in the regulation.

We are now writing to seek your consent to;

- Provide additional information about the material we purchase from your company. This will help us in securing access to the relevant information about our products required under the EUTR.

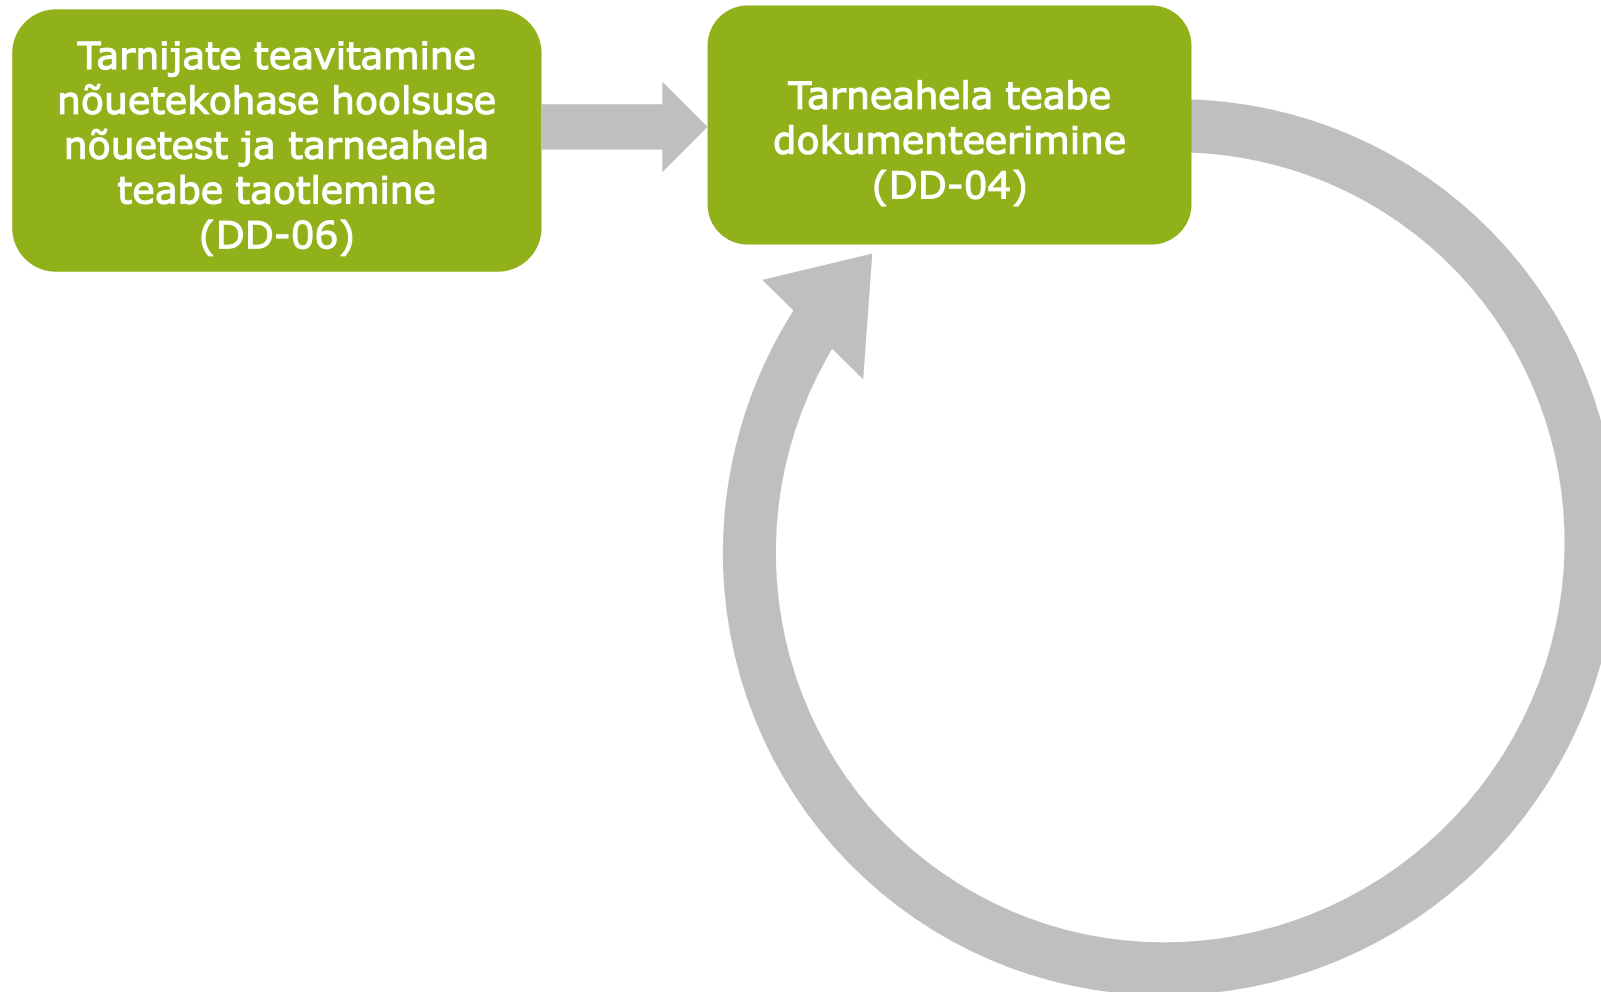

[WHERE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION IS REQUIRED ABOUT SUPPLY CHAIN(S), THE FOLLOWING SENTENCE CAN BE ADDED:]

To allow us to evaluate our supply of timber and/or paper products, we request that you complete the attached excel sheet [ENTER NAME OF THE EXCEL FILE (DD-05)], providing information about the products you sell to us.

Bans and restrictions

A moratorium on commercial harvesting from state owned natural forests was put in place in 2016 and extended to all natural forests from the beginning of 2017. By the end of 2017, no logging in natural forests will be allowed. Forest maintenance is allowed and timber from this can be sold legally.

Armed conflict

There is an unchanging conflict status in China because of territorial disputes in the sea and secretarian conflict, according to the Council on Foreign Relations' Global Conflict Tracker.

According to the Uppsala Conflict Data Program there were 5 deaths from 2010-2016.

CITES species

CITES appendix II: Dalbergia spp. and Taxus spp.

Timber source types	Description of source type
Plantations	Timber from commercial plantations. These can be collectively, individually or corporately owned commercial plantations, and are mostly state managed. A harvesting permit and logging permit application is required. The is the primary source of timber in China. Timber from forests planted for other purpose, such as fruit trees, are known as economic forests. When the forest has no yield, it may be cut as materials for forest products. A harvesting permit, logging permit application and forest tenure certificate are required.
Natural forests	State owned natural forests are not a source of timber, except for: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Timber from tending.• Timber from natural forest managed by collectives, individuals or corporations. Though not that the logging ban is increasingly implemented though contracts with forest owners. Protected forests (Class III) are a limited source of timber. They are state or collectively owned, and include natural and planted forests. A Harvesting Permit, logging permit application, forest management plan, logging plan, regeneration certification for previous year, forest tenure certificate and the approval of local, provincial and state governments are required.
Bamboo forests	Timber from trees/bamboo planted around farm houses and households. Bamboo forest refers to advantageous bamboo species, generally including timber bamboo forest, shoot bamboo forest and timber-shoot bamboo forest. Harvesting permit (in some provinces) and logging permit application (in some provinces) are required.

Mida tähendab „puiduallika liik“?

- Mingi riigi metsi võivad mõjutada erineva tasemega ja eri laadi ebaseaduslikkuse riskid.
- Kui eri liiki metsadega seonduvad erinevad riskid, saame selle alusel liike eristada.
- Arvestame järgmisi tunnuseid:
 - ✓ Metsa liik (looduslik/istutatud)
 - ✓ Asukoht
 - ✓ Õiguslik seisund
 - ✓ Omandivorm
 - ✓ Majandamine

Risk assessment summary

Legal rights to harvest

- Risk of lack of registration and tenure certificates (applicable only to collective forest plantation only)
- Risk of conflicts in relation to land rent (applicable only to collective forest plantation only)
- Risk of lack of management plans and failure to meet the requirements for drafting management plans (applicable on to state-owned forest management enterprises)
- Risk of harvesting without permit and unlawful issuing of harvesting permit

Taxes and fees

- Risk that value-added taxes (VAT) are not paid appropriately

Timber harvesting activities

- Risk of lack of use of safety equipment
- Risk of lack of employment contracts
- Risk of lack of social security payments

Trade and transport

- Mis-/under reporting on customs declarations

Tracability

- Risk of false declaration of origin

B. Overview of timber legality risks in China

Timber Risk Score: 73 / 100 in 2017

This report contains an evaluation of the risk of illegality in China for five categories and 21 sub-categories of law. We found:

- Specified risk for 5 sub-categories.
- Low risk for 13 sub-categories.
- No legal requirements for 3 sub-categories.

The Timber Risk Score for China is 73 out of 100. The key legality risks identified in this report concern legal rights to harvest, taxes and fees, timber harvesting activities and trade and transport.

For Legal Rights to Harvest, there is a risk of:

- A lack of registration and tenure certificates (applicable only to collective forest plantation only) (Sub-category 1.1)
- Conflicts in relation to land rent (applicable only to collective forest plantation only) (1.1.)
- A lack management plans and failure to meet the requirements for drafting management plans (applicable on to state-owned forest management enterprises) (1.3)
- Harvesting without permit and unlawful issuing of harvesting permit and the (1.4)

For Taxes and Fees, there is a risk that that value-added taxes (VAT) are not paid according to law (1.6).

For Timber Harvesting Activities, there is risk that:

- Safety equipment is not used in harvesting activities (1.11)
- Employment contracts are not in place for all employees (1.12)
- Social security payments are not up to date for all employees

For Trade and Transport, there is a risk of miss-/under reporting on customs declarations, exacerbated by the issues related to corruption and poor governance (1.19).

Timber source types and risks

There are three timber source types found in China. Knowing the "source type" that timber originates from is useful because different source types can be subject to different applicable legislation and have attributes that affect the risk of non-compliance with the legislation. We have analysed the risks for all source types and found the risks differ between them.

Plantation Forest	Commercial Plantation Timber – from collectively, individually or corporately owned commercial plantations, mostly state managed. A harvesting permit and logging permit application is required. The is the primary source of timber in China.

D. Legality Risk Assessment

LEGAL RIGHTS TO HARVEST

1.1. Land tenure and management rights

Legislation covering land tenure rights, including customary rights as well as management rights that includes the use of legal methods to obtain tenure rights and management rights. It also covers legal business registration and tax registration, including relevant legal required licenses. Risk may be encountered where land rights have not been issued according to prevailing regulations and where corruption has been involved in the process of issuing land tenure and management rights. The intent of this indicator is to ensure that any land tenure and management rights have been issued according to the legislation.

1.1.5. Risk determination

Overview of legal requirements

The Constitution, General Principle of Civil Law, and the Forestry Law of China provide that forest resources are owned by the State except for those owned by collectives according to laws. There are three forms of ownership to forest, timber and forest land:

- (i) State-owned forest, timber and forest land;
- (ii) Collectively owned forest, timber and forest land; as well as included in forestry land subject to planning. This could be considered a potential risk. However, these non-forestry lands are included within land use rights certificates, which can serve as evidence that the certificate holder owns the use right of land and the right to use the resources on the land. At any rate, to safeguard the interests of farmers, China now allows the issuing of forest tenure certificates for forest on non-forestry land, and some cities or provinces have been implementing the policy.

Risk Conclusion

Based on the available information, the risk in this category has been generally assessed as Low at the country level. However, also based on the available information, risks in some southern provinces in China persist and can be assessed as Specified, including: Hainan, Yunnan and Guangdong. The risks are reflected in two aspects: 1) some collective forests are not registered or issued with forest tenure certificates; and 2) harvesting on non-forestry land.

1.1.6. Risk designation and specification

Low risk:

China

Specified risk:

Commercial Plantations in some areas in Hainan, Yunnan, Guangdong and possibly other provinces within the Southern Collective Forest Region (Hunan, Jiangxi, Fujian, Zhejiang, Hubei).

1.1.7. Control measures and verifiers

- Harvesting permit may be used to confirm the ownership or tenure.
- In areas with land tenure conflicts: Consultation with neighbors, local communities and other stakeholders shall confirm that land tenure rights are clear and – where applicable – lease of the land has been agreed by all the land owners.
- Contractors shall have a valid forest land contract signed by all land tenure owners involved in the area.
- Contractors leasing forest land shall hold the forest tenure certificate (or similar document) to show the tenure transfer registration.
- Stakeholder consultation shall confirm that the legal status of the operation or rights for conducting the established activities are not subject to court orders or other legally established decisions to cease operations.
- Valid business registration documents (Business Registration Certificate and Tax Registration Certificate) shall exist for companies.

1.2. Concession licenses

Legislation regulating procedures for the issuing of forest concession licenses, including use of legal methods to obtain concession license. Especially bribery, corruption and nepotism are well-known issues in connection with concession licenses. The intent of this indicator is to avoid risk related to Mitigate the risks in your supply chain

Learn which actions we recommended to mitigate the risks associated with the timber sources from China.

Mitigation recommendations

We have two tools to help you mitigate risks for Chinese timber supply chains:

- the Risk Mitigation Guide gives you a detailed overview of risks in China, and how to mitigate them.
- the Document Guide provides you with a list of all required documents and examples of key documents and how to use them in mitigating risks.

The tools above give you the most information. Below is a summary of our six recommended actions to mitigate the risks associated with timber sources from China.

1. Fully map your supply chain

- Our supply chain mapping tool can help you do this.

2. Obtain and verify documents

- Forest level documents
 - Business Registration Certificate and Tax Registration Certificate
 - Contract
 - Forest Tenure Certificate

Example 14: Customs declaration registration approval certificate for customs declaration company

(Registration form of external trade proprietor)

Applicable to: Forest entities who export timber to other countries

Purpose and content of document: All entities that have import and export business should register at Ministry of Commerce of China to obtain the right to import and export. The registration form shows that the holder has the right to legally import and export. The contents of the registration certificate are: name of the entity (both English and Chinese names), address, organisation code, contact information, business registration code etc.

Holder of document: Forest entities exporting timber to other countries

Document issued by: Ministry of Commerce

Signature/Seal required by: Local branches of Ministry of Commerce

Key considerations when checking the document:

- ☐ Is the name the same as on the business registration certificate?
- ☐ Is the business registration code the same as that appearing on the business registration certificate?
- ☐ Is the information in the custom registration system:
